

Already Over

A fighter in the ring
He don't know he's standing
He can't feel a thing
As the blows are landing
And why he still swings
Takes some understanding
Of a place
We seldom go

*Where it's already over
Already over
But the heart don't know
It's already over
Already over
But the heart don't know*

With her every word
Good-bye she is saying
Young man hasn't heard
He's too busy praying
For the way their lives were
She would be staying
But instead
She turns to go

*And it's already over
Already over
But the heart don't know*

*It's already over
Already over
But the heart don't know*

A fighter in the ring
He don't know he's standing
He can't feel a thing

Way at the other end of knowing something really good is about to start, you might find these scenes. My hat is forever off to those who keep trying long after the battle is lost.

Milton Sledge - drums
Alison Prestwood - bass
Dan Dugmore - pedal steel
George Marinelli, Jr.
- gut string guitar
Pete Wasner - piano
Kirk "Jellyroll" Johnson - harmonica
