

Easy to Forget (Every Time I Remember)

---

What a world it would be if all memories were good ones.

Do you remember when you said
“I swear to you - others might break your heart but I never will”
If I was still waiting on that to be true
I think it’s safe to say I’d be waiting still
But if I ever want to forget

I just remember
Every hard word spoken
Every single swear upon your very soul
Promise ever broken
When I think back on that day
And that heart you laid to waste
You know the one
That was true as it was tender
It makes it easy to forget
Every time I remember

I gather up all the cold regrets
And then I make sure to hold them close
It’s the only cure that ain’t failed me yet
’Cause in no time at all I’m letting go

How you told me that you loved me
And then the fool you made out of me

When I think back on that day
And the heart you laid to waste
You know the one
That was true as it was tender
It makes it easy to forget
Every time I

Remember when you said, “I swear to you
Others might break your heart – but I never will”

Tony Arata Music (ASCAP)