

Love Every Time

There are far worse things to fall for, that's for sure. My thanks to Suzy Bogguss, a genuine pearl of an individual and a great artist, for doing this one.

I don't listen to politicians
I don't believe in any superstitions
But I will fall
For love every time

I don't heed the weatherman's predictions
I even doubt most of my own convictions
But I will fall
For love every time

I ain't the one out chasing
All the latest rages
I reserve my lack of any reservation
For nothing but the lure of
The one thing on earth
That you sure can't be sure of

I don't gamble
Too many hits and misses
Won't waste money on wishing-well wishes
But I will fall
For love every time
