

Sing You Back To Me

---

I wish it was just this simple. Another song that I wrote with Gene Nelson, this one was done as well as a song can be by Trisha Yearwood. My sincere thanks to her. A true friend, the remarkably talented Kirk “Jelly Roll” Johnson, helped me with this version.

I'd like to write a song
A sweet and simple thing
And if I do it right
It would be the only one I'd sing
For it would bring me everything I need
A song that I could sing you back to me

There must be a million words
And all I have to do
Is lay my heart upon
Those rare and magic few
Why can't it be as simple as it seems
Just a song that I could sing you back to me

I would sing you back
Bring you back
With a miracle of page and pen
You would hear it and be here again
And always and forever there would be
A song that I could sing you back to me
