Sing You Back to Me

(Tony Arata, Gene Nelson)

I'd like to write a song
A sweet and simple thing
And if I do it right
It would be the only one I'd sing
For it would bring me everything I need
A song, that I could sing you back to me

There must be a million words
And all I have to do
Is lay my heart upon
Those rare and magic few
Why can't it be as simple as it seems
Just a song, that I could sing you back to me

I would sing you back, bring you back
With a miracle of page and pen
You would hear it and be here again
And always and forever there would be
A song that I could sing you back to me
