

Pete WASNER • Tony Arata

Still Within

(Tony Arata, Pete Wasner)

Where is that hope that I remember
Where is that love that I recall
Strong enough to be tender
That saw bridges and never walls

Where is that joy that has been missing
That seemed to rise—rise above the noise
The soul that took the time to listen
And heard the good in every voice

Don't tell me—it was just a dream
Of some better world that never has been
I believe it may be closer than it seems
Waiting on you and me to live again
It is still within—still within

Where is that heart
That faced all danger
Both with reason—reason and restraint
Cared for all and knew no strangers
And treated one and all the same

Where is that peace
So long elusive—we haven't felt—in such a long while
That gift we owe with no excuses
To our every precious child

Don't tell me—it was just a dream
Of some better world that never has been
I believe it may be closer than it seems
Waiting on you and me to live again
It is still within—still within

Chad Cromwell—drums

Michael Rhodes—bass

Pete Wasner—piano, lead vocal, harmony vocal

Tom Britt—acoustic slide guitar

Little Tybee Music / Uncle Pete Music