

Pat Alger·Tony Arata

It was my dream when I came to Nashville to have a hit with Don Williams – this was the dream come true – I only wished I had dreamed for more because in my mind he was the greatest country singer of my generation. This is a fun song to sing and it was an easy song to write. I haven't often had that combination.

TRUE LOVE

(Pat Alger)

Adam met Eve on a Saturday Night
That's when the trouble started
She said, "Adam, Let's go get a bite"
And she led him to the Garden
And ever since we try to make sense
Of this mystery emotion
We might as well try to count the stars in the sky
Or those raindrops in the ocean

You know it was True love
Deeper than deep
It's hotter than a fire
It's hard to find and harder to keep
And the thing we most desire

I was alone for so many nights
I really started to wonder
If I had run out of chances to find
A spell I could fall under
Then you walked in like in an Elvis film
You were singing "Love Me Tender"
I was hypnotized by your blue eyes
And the next thing I remember

And there is True Love in a winking eye
And a sweet perfume that lingers
It's an "I Love You" on a new tattoo
And that diamond on your finger
